The Dimmer View

By MAX GOODWIN

There's a form letter on my desk from the Director of Pupil Personnel of the County Superintendent of Schools. It says I am illegally hiring a bright, husky high school youth named Tom Speckmann, age 15.

There are two plaques on my wall. They were awarded me earlier this year at the San Diego Unit of the California Newspaper Publishers Association. They are Youth Service Awards.

Somewhere between my service-to-youth activities and the implication by the Director of Pupil Personnel, is the area of action.

By inference, the DPP says I am a criminal for employing the youth, who has been working around our shop for the past couple of months. In an ultimatum signed by J. S. Jacobs, the law is cited — "No minor under 16 years of age shall be employed... operating or assisting in operation of printing presses of any kind." He also quoted "L.C. 1293 under Section 1292 also prohibits (youths) from oiling, wiping or cleaning machinery or assisting therein."

"You are," it avows, "herewith notified of disapproval of application for permit to employ Tom Speckmann."

So we let Tom go. I have no argument with the law. I do have an argument with the people who interpret it. We did not use the youth for any purpose they said we could not. The DPP people took the role of attorney-judge and jury and pre-tried a case on which they had no evidence except that which they supplied themselves by their imagination.

Thousands of men have worked around newspaper shops in their youth. They know that only an idiot foreman would let a youngster fool around with an expensive and complicated piece of printing equipment. They also know that there are scores of other jobs around a newspaper shop, from sweeping the floor to addressing newspapers. Jobs that are right up the alley of a maturing youth. Jobs that kept him occupied and out of mischief.

So last week I made a telephone call to the Pupil Personnel Department and what did it get me? It got me an old-fashioned governmental browbeating by a woman in the office who warned me not to argue with her. She informed me the Department was ordained by the state and

Imperial Beach Happy, Solvent Says Mayor

Imperial Beach is a happy city Cecil Gunthrop, first mayor of the newly incorporated community told the Men's Club Friday. He also told of the up-and-downs the proponents of incorporation had before the city was formed.

He said that the tax rate at the time the city was formed was higher than that of the City of San Diego. San Diego has since raised taxes and presently Imperial Beach has a lower rate.

He said the foremost task was to weld divergent forces into a body which showed community spirit. That, he said had been successfully done.

The city was incorporated in June 1956 but the actual birth-date was July 18. By such a break in the calendar was the city able to receive county services for 11½ months without charge. The law, said Mayor Gunthrop, provides that the county must supply services for the remainder of any given fiscal year. The county starts its year July 1.

The city is now financially healthy as well as happy, Gunthrop added.

The speaker at the Men's Club this week will be a representative from the La Jolla Town Council who will describe how a city community may maintain its own identity. Meeting will be at 12:15 Friday at Michael's. All men are invited.

JUNIOR COLLEGE OK SAY SCHOOL OFFICIALS

A favorable report was returned for a junior college in the east county area Friday night when Dr. Frank Wright, association superintendent of public instruction for the State of California said that it was possible to form a junior college district and that it was possible to finance one.

The report was given at the El Cajon Valley high school and the meeting was preside over by Rex Hall, Grossmont high school trustee. Wright was presented by Lewis Smith, high school district superintendent.

Wright said there were enough students, enough taxable wealth and enough need to justify such a district. He admitted that the assessed valuation per pupil was half the state's average.

Smith said he would conduct a study before making a recommendation to the Grossmont trustees. These trustees have long eyed the need for a junior college and it is this group which would call an election by which electors may decide whether a junior college is desired or not. Smith said that a financing issue would probably be held at the same time. Smith said his study would determine whether or not enough people favored the district before his recommendation goes to the board.

Drs. Robert Clemons and Hugh Price defended the need for junior colleges. Clemons is assistant to Dr. Wright. Price heads the newly formed state division of junior colleges.

Rotary Gives $500 To Miguel Band

The Lemon Grove Rotary Club put on an impromptu grid-iron program to give Mel Grant, principal of Mt. Miguel, a good-natured roasting Monday.

Occasion of the horse-play was Mt. Miguel breaking into the football win column, finally.

Harry Harper, Rotary District Governor, was guest of honor and main speaker. He held the club that Rotary Clubs around the world had enough manpower to spread understanding and insure peace.

A check for $500 was presented to Mrs. Don Ellis for the Mt. Miguel Band Parents' organization. Funds will be used to pay for school band uniforms.

Dr. Harry Sorteberg was program chairman.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

On October 23, under "SPEAKER CALLS EDITOR MALICIOUS", the local newspaper reported that during a speech at the Men's Club, Judge Hussey declared "the Editor of the Review had published material with malicious intent about the closing of the Homeland Judicial Court" and, further, "that his knowledge of the Editor's attitude and character had contributed to his conviction that the material was malicious."

These are harsh words. It is not recorded whether the learned Judge touched on the truth or falsity of the "material" which Judge's alleged activities in Sacramento. If the "material" was without foundation, the Judge

Burglar's Work Nets $9.82

Burglar's broke into the offices of Dr. Donald Johnson 7854 Golden Avenue, and his next door neighbor Dr. Calvin Nicholl, 7852 Golden, and made off with $9.82 they told sheriff's deputies.

Their offices were entered early Thursday morning through a rear door. Dr. Nicholl's loss was $1.50. Dr. Johnson's $8.32. Loss to the building was considerable caused by the burglars ripping away part of the wall to get a jimmy behind the door frame.

Jaycees To Hear Editor Talk

Three finalists from Helix High School and three from Mt. Miguel will compete Tuesday evening in the Lemon Grove Junior Chamber of Commerce "Voice of Democracy" contest. Meeting will be held at Michael's at 7 p.m.

In charge of the competition is Bill Van Dusen, 9421 Crest Drive, Spring Valley. Judges will be three officers of Toastmasters. They are Marian Fujimoto, Don Caton and W. Jackson.

The Parent Education committee of the Mt. Miguel High School Parent-Teachers Association is receiving many calls from parents requesting that buses pick up students within the two and a half mile radius of the school. The parents are of the opinion that bad weather will make it almost impossible for the students to get to school. The school has a set rule not to pick up students within the 2½ mile limit.

Mrs. William Hoyer, chairman of the Parent Education committee, said that the school did, however, make arrangements with the Goodall Bus Service to pick up students within the limit, but the students are paying so much a month for their rides. These fees are payable in advance.

With a great number of requests coming in, Mrs. Hoyer said that Goodall's have two more buses available for pick up service and will run them during the winter months. Of course the buses will have to be seated to capacity, and there must be assurance that the students will ride steadily during the winter. Transportation fees will have to be paid in advance also.

Any parents with Mt. Miguel High School students living within the 2½ mile radius of the school, who wish the children to go by bus, are requested to contact Mrs. Hoyer at HO 9-3852, or Mrs. Robert Day at HO 6-2557. The areas of bus pick up are Spring Valley, Lemon Grove and Monterey Heights.

CHAMBER TO GET REPORT OF SURVEY NEXT WEEK

The Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce will hear a report Thursday noon at its regular monthly meeting at Michael's in which the results of an economic survey will be revealed.

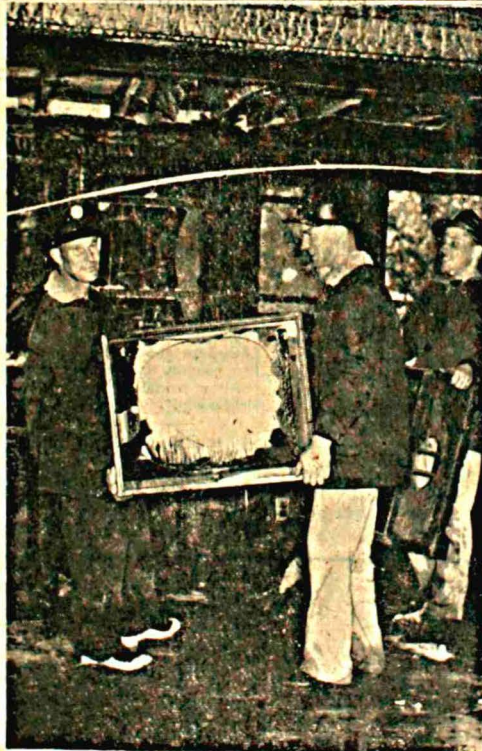

The survey was made by the Los Angeles Bureau of Municipal Research. The chamber has contracted to pay $1,800 to the firm for a professional, impartial and unbiased study of the economic makeup of the community so that the development committee of the chamber might be guided as to the direction to take for community planning.

The directions open are annexation or incorporation.

The chamber previously agreed to change its meeting time and place from the former justice court room to Michael's. Meetings are now held the first Thursday of each month instead of the first Tuesday evening.

W. Earl Smart, president of the chamber said that a verbal report would be given by November 8 at the Men's Club. The club had set aside this date many weeks ago for this purpose. Smart said also that copies of the report would be made available only to members of the executive committee of the development committee until such time that a recommendation is made by them.

THE WRONG FOOT

Kansas City. — Taken to a doctor's office with a broken foot, little Tommy Hess, 3, was told that the foot would have to be placed in a cast. The boy did not once whimper or complain during the 40-minute operation. Impressed, the doctor congratulated him. Tommy looked up and told the astonished doctor, "It's the other foot that hurts." He afterward admitted that he had deliberately extended the wrong foot, fearful that it would hurt when the cast was put on the broken one.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON ON PUNISHMENT OF EVIL

The punishment of evil is inherent in the evil and inseparable from it declares the Lesson-Sermon in the Christian Science churches on Sunday. The subject of the sermon is "Everlasting Punishment" and its Golden Text points up the subject in Ezekiel's words, "Repent, and turn yourselves from all your transgressions; so iniquity shall not be your ruin" (18:30).

The Second Reader will commence the sermon with these words from the book of Jeremiah (2:5, 19), "Thus saith the Lord, What iniquity have your fathers found in me, that they are gone far from me... Thine own wickedness shall correct thee, and thy backsliding shall reprove thee; know therefore and see that it is an evil thing and bitter."

Forrest Baxter, 2925 Buena Vista, and Dr. Donald Johnson, 2966 Buena Vista, both of Lemon Grove were photographed as they attended the Lions Club International District 4-L4 Cabinet meeting held earlier this month at the Desert Air Hotel, Rancho Mirage, California. Baxter is Lions Governor and Dr. Johnson is District Secretary-treasurer. Standing behind the Lemon Grove men are Lyman Theal, executive secretary, Santa Barbara, and Boyton Jones, past district governor, Coachella Valley. District 4-L4 includes all the Lions Clubs of San Diego and Imperial counties, as well as part of Riverside county.

Dry Era Produces Drought Proof Grass

Re-seeding burned-over brushland has proven successful on San Diego range land. Fall rains have increased interest in re-seeding. Victor Brown, University of California farm advisor, says that several grasses have survived the last few years of low rainfall. On rough range where immediate cover is desired, and it is not possible to seed by mechanical means, an annual mixture of soft chess and annual rye-grass is the least expensive. Success can be tripled by covering the seed either with a drag, disc or sheepfoot roller. These grasses will re-seed themselves for a period of three or four years under San Diego conditions.

On more desirable sites where high brush has been removed by fire, experiments have shown that a complete conversion of brushland to grassland can be made. A mixture of perennial grasses including Harding, Smilo and Veldt have shown the most promise. Seed broadcast and covered with a disc or sheepfoot roller will make a satisfactory stand. A light application of fertilizer assures even better results. This kind of seeding warrants elimination of regrowth of brush sprouts. Chemicals can be used for retarding the growth. A free booklet entitled "Brushland to Grassland" is available at the Farm Advisor's Office, Bldg. 1, 4005 Rosecrans Street, San Diego 10. This publication is prepared for San Diego conditions.

To raise funds, a premiere benefit showing of "The Robe" will be held at the Grove Theatre, November 12 and 13. "The Robe" will be shown in color Cinema-scope, and has been adapted from the all time best seller.

Rain Cuts HID Water Use 59%

The Board of Directors of the Helix Irrigation District announced Tuesday that the weather and the Water Conservation Program have shown remarkable results in water use. During 1956, from January 1 to October 21, 14,657 acre feet of water were used in the district. (An acre foot equals 326,000 gallons.) For the same period this year 13,192 acre feet were used. This represents a 10% decrease.

Water use for the week of October was 15-21 was only 153 acre feet, or 59% less than last year.

The board, elated with the success of the conservation program, couldn't help notice a rather sobering result... water sales are down $142,963.02 for the first eight months of 1957.

BIG BAG — Here is part of the bag of three area hunters who trekked to the Elk Ridge District of Lasalle National Forest near Monticello, Utah earlier this month. The men spent 10 days of hunting through snow, sleet, hail, and rain to bring down their limit of two bucks and one doe each. The men are Gay Brawdaway, National City; Herman Brawdaway, 2483 Hardy Drive, Lemon Grove, uncle of the other Brawdaway, and Ezra J. Loftis, also of National City. Uncle Brawdaway has been hunting in the area for a great number of years. It was the first hunting trip for each of the others. — Tappy Foto

Matadors Break 2 Game Streak 32-14

By Jerry Wingo

Playing a superb brand of ball, the Mt. Miguel Matadors snapped a two game losing streak by crushing the Grossmont Foothillers 32-14, last Friday night at Helix.

Ron Helsel and Jerry Lipscomb were the big guns for the Matadors as they both racked up 13 points apiece. Rocky Barsotti received credit for the Ballfighter 6 pointer.

The Capewaters scored twice in the first half when fullback Barsotti and halfback Helsel both went over from the 1 yard line.

Mickey Bruce got credit for both Grossmont TD's, the first one coming on a 20 yard dash, and the second on a one yard plunge.

Then Helsel and Lipscomb went to work, when "The Lip" raced over from the 40 yard stripe. Helsel then decided that his counterpart wasn't going to have all the glory, by tanking his way over from the 2 yard line. Both boys ran over an extra point.

Summary:

Mt. Miguel 6 6 6 14 32
Grossmont 0 7 7 0 14

He will continue the name of the shop as The Grove Barber, at least for the present, he said.

DOOMED AT 50: DIES AT 101
Denver, Colo. — At 50 years of age, Freont P. Livingston contracted tuberculosis and was told by doctors that death would come soon. However, Livingston, a native of Pennsylvania, came west, began work as a mechanical engineer, amateur inventor, of a self-wringing mop, painter, and poet. He died on May 15, this year at the age of 101.

DANGEROUS JOB.
Boise, Idaho. — To estimate a bid on a roof repaint job, Earl Jensen, a Boise contractor climbed into the attic of the Boise public library. Jensen accidentally crashed through a skylight and landed 20 feet to the floor below. He wasn't badly hurt but he'll have to include a broken skylight in his estimate.

federal government to "protect school children", presumably from the likes of me. She insisted, in spite of what I tried to say, that a "printer's helper", as we had classified Tom, meant that he was doing exactly the type of work the law forbade him to do.

"Does anyone ever question your interpretation of job classifications enough to induce you to contact the employer for more information?" I asked hopefully. "We can't take the time," was the shocking answer.

One girl, as routinely as she would scramble an egg for her Sunday breakfast had made the decision because she wasn't about to let any question arise that would disturb the convenience of her job.

Later, Tuesday of this week, when Dr. Jacobs returned our call, he was properly contrite. He reminded me how he had been working with co-ordinating councils to bring the youth-labor law down to an understandable level so the people who hire youngsters only once-in-a-while may understand the rules. In the case, such as ours, where myriad jobs might be lumped under a classification there was room for misunderstanding and his department should have taken the trouble to inquire, he said.

Tom is back at work. Our ruffled feathers have been smoothed by Dr. Jacobs.

Many persons may not be interested or care, one way or another, but I do. I care because law-makers have told me from time to time that it is not their intention that their laws be invoked in a high-handed and arbitrary manner. Nor do we intend to relinquish our rights as a free, human being when we have contact with a governmental branch of our own creation.

I am happy to state that Dr. Jacobs said that he agreed with me and that he would take steps to implement this philosophy.

I'd like to introduce to our readers a good friend of mine. He is Larry Freeman, the editor of the National City News. I'm pleased and proud to present one of his recent editorials on a volatile subject, which will be seldom dealt with in the future in the newspapers in such an easily understood manner.

"The embryo battle royal between Sen. Knowland and Gov. Knight for the Republican nomination for the latter's job won't be the only hard-fought contest at the polls next year.

"The issue of tax exemption for private schools is coming up again, after voters of California approved the exemption in 1952.

"Already publicity wizards have been employed by both sides and literature for and against is beginning to flow over the desks of the editors.

"Petitions for the Initiative, which would repeal the law exempting private schools from taxation, carried 356,351 signatures, 33,884 more than necessary to qualify, and according to Frank M. Jordan, secretary of state, it will be the first measure on the ballot having been first to qualify.

"It is a complex and slippery issue, not to mention an unpleasant one because it concerns religion and education, two explosive subjects once they are injected into politics.

"Broadly speaking the proponents for repeal have as their basic reason the separation of church and state, and in principle there is some logic in their position.

"From a practical standpoint, however, those who favor exemption have something on their side, too.

"They pay their public school tax, but choose to pay tuition and send their youngsters to non-profit private schools, and not always by any means for religious reasons.

"If tax exemptions stops at real estate, and other services are not asked, there is some logic in this position, too. They feel they save the other taxpayers the cost of educating their own children.

"The proponents of tax exemption feel they are penalized if they pay double taxation, because of an inherent right to choose the type of education they wish for their youngsters.

"But, says the other side, public schools are provided for education—and those who choose not to avail themselves of it should pay the entire cost of privately educating their children.

"There's a hard fight ahead."

WASHINGTON SUMMARY

by ED KOTERBA

BEHIND IKE'S BROADCASTS

An avalanche of anti-administration mail from folks jittery over Russia's scientific advances — that was one reason President Eisenhower decided on his series of radio and TV talks detailing our scientific progress.

A confidential report discloses that the launching of the first Russian satellite brought the most mail critical of the White House since the peak days of the controversial 1958 federal budget.

WHY NIXON CANCELED

Vice President Richard Nixon announced he called off his extensive European tour because of press of work.

There were, actually, three reasons:

1. More countries than Nixon could possibly visit in his limited time had sent formal invitations to him. (Protocol dictates that the vice president visit every country issuing an invitation).
2. The State Department considered the timing bad because of the serious dip in our prestige abroad due to the Sputnik.
3. Nixon was needed here to help draft the President's policy-making address to Congress in January.

MYSTERY WITNESS

The Senate rackets committee is hoping against hope to entice a key witness into this country from Canada to testify against Nathan Shefferman. . . . This is for the latest series of hearings purporting to show there was collusion with big companies to rid themselves of organized labor.

The witness: Dr. Louis Checov, one of Shefferman's top assistants in the nation-wide "anti-union" operation. Checov refuses to budge despite every threat the rackets committee has used on him.

A SMALLER BUDGET?

President Eisenhower has ordered his budget people to hold 1959 federal spending estimates to $70 billion. . . . That's less than last year's estimated budget.

The President hopes to keep costs down by shrinking the size of Big Government. More than a billion more will go into missiles, but any extra money can be drawn from the $32 billion now in the Defense Department's unexpended funds (money allotted earlier but not spent).

There's one big hitch in Ike's big economy hopes. . . . State governments will demand more federal grants than ever before.

MORE BENSON CRITICISM

The beleaguered Agriculture Secretary, Ezra Benson, now faces new criticism — for using taxpayers' money to help pay for a world junket for two of his daughters.

At his "bon voyage" press conference, Benson flushed when asked if the government was standing expenses for the girls who are accompanying the secretary on the 25-day trip. . . . but he refused to answer the question. Later, however, an assistant told reporters the government would take care of the girls' transportation, and nothing else.

transportation, and nothing else.

SYMPATHY FOR IKE

Despite the barbs aimed by Ike's critics on his handling of the Little Rock racial dispute, the President is receiving an amazing amount of sympathy from folks around the nation.

They're writing their congressmen saying that it wasn't Ike's fault that Gov. Faubus acted so contrarily and had to be dealt with sternly. "Why blame Ike?" the letterwriters are asking.

CAPITAL BRIEFS

Gwen Cafritz, aspiring to be the Capital's No. 1 hostess, slipped a notch in social esteem when Queen Elizabeth was here. . . . She was not invited to the queen's formal dinner, while her biggest competitor, Millionaire Marjorie Merriweather Post, was.

The Internal Revenue Department is launching the greatest crackdown in history on questionable business expense deductions of big and small companies. . . . They let it be known they really mean business.

A federal "space agency" may be set up in Washington in '58. . . . Sen. Charles Potter of Michigan will introduce a resolution calling for a "Scientific Progress Administration" to oversee outer-space developments.

Th Agriculture Department expresses alarm over the amazing drop in farm population this year — 1,861,000. That's one-tenth of our total farm workers.

GIFT-WRAP PROGRAM FOR WOMAN'S CLUB

How to wrap gifts will be the subject at the next meeting of the garden section of the Lemon Grove Woman's Club on November 4 at 1:30 in the Clubhouse on Main St.

Mrs. Betchel of the Gift Shop in La Mesa will be present to demonstrate tying of gift packages.

CD Activities Get Under Way Again

A basic course for Civil Defense will be offered to general public here starting November 7 at 7 p.m. at the Lemon Grove Junior High School, according to Walter L. Chandler, County CD Training Officer.

Enrollment is open to any adult without charge. The class will meet for 2½ hours for four consecutive Thursdays.

Chandler said that qualified Civil Defense instructors will handle the course. It will cover information needed by all civil defense and disaster workers.

Persons taking the course are not required to become members of Civil Defense zone staffs, he said.

"This course will offer basic principles for family survival under disaster conditions," Chandler said.

Meanwhile, area evacuating groups have been named. For Lemon Grove the group is comprised of James Colquhoun, 9302 Campo Rd., S.V.; Guy Davis, 9319 Vista Dr., S.V.; Bob Davis, same; Ivan Lake, 9808 La Cresta Rd., S.V.; and Art Stevens, 1530 DuPont, Lemon Grove.

Others participating at the local zones included:

Spring Valley — Edward P. Rue, 8646 Ildicia St.

Vista La Mesa — Carl Jackson, 3933 Shirley Pl. La Mesa; Robert Miller, 7137 Boulevard, La Mesa.

Mt. Helix — Roland McMarhan, 10880 Hess Dr., La Mesa

IT'S AN ILL WIND . . .

Hinton, Okla. — Three blocks of Main Street here were accidentally paved recently. A truck, loaded with 4,000 gallons of hot asphalt overturned in the business district. City officials promptly threw in some sand and spread the mixture evenly over the thoroughfare.

Brydegaard Bags Another Low Cost High School

Herluf Brydegaard, the architect who designed Mt. Miguel High School has had another building bid in at an unexpectedly low price.

It is the James Madison Senior High School in Claremont and the bid, made by I. C. Curry, Inc., was for $200,000 under the architect's estimate.

Curry's bid was $1,949,870 or $947 a square foot. Mt. Miguel was built at a cost of $10.80 a square foot by Oral Carpenter.

Carpenter's bid on the James Madison school was $1,979,000 which placed him third. George Riba was second with a bid of $1,956,000. Stiff competition among the sub-contractors is given as one of the reasons the square-foot cost came out so low.

Area Women To Attend G. S. Convention

Two members of District 10, which includes Lemon Grove, will make the junket to Philadelphia November 11 to take part in the 34th Convention of the National Council of Girl Scouts of the USA.

Mrs. Edward Kranch, 3267 Acacia Street, secretary of the district group and secretary of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce, too, will make the trip as will Mrs. J. B. Stevenson, chairman of the district.

The convention will be week-long and will be concerned with the broader aspects of scouting rather than with local problems. Mrs. Kranch will then visit her parents in Chicago for two weeks.
